Public Health Institute (Division of Policy and Law) Ph.D. Program

Academic Year 2021

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Minimum study term</th>
<th>2 years</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Minimum required credits</td>
<td>28 Credits</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minimum required credits for Direct-Entrance Ph.D.</td>
<td>36 Credits</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Curriculum and program requirements

Requirement:
- Epidemiological Methods (3 Credits)
  - Students who wish to conduct dissertation using quantitative methods must also take Advanced Epidemiology.
- Biostatistics (2 Credits)
- Biostatistical Modeling and Data Analysis (2 Credits)
- Seminars in Health Policy and Law (PhD) (2 Credits each semester, mandatory for 4 semesters)
  - Advanced Seminars in Epidemiology (2 semesters, total 2 Credits), Teaching Assistants' Training and Practice (2 Credits), and Seminar on Legal and Policy Analysis (2 Credits) can be used to fulfill a maximum of 2 semesters (4 Credits) requirements on Seminars in Health Policy and Law.

Division Elective Courses:

1. Courses on research methodology: Minimum 4 Credits
2. Courses on law and policy theories: Minimum 6 Credits

Remarks

Students must take Research Ethics (0 Credit) before applying for thesis defense examination.